MTCF Carepoints

Save lives in Sudan

MTCF is serving meals, establishing homes and providing medical care to help rescue the suffering orphans of Sudan and rebuild their communities.

More than 3 million orphans struggle to survive in Sudan, where food prices have skyrocketed, families have been split apart by civil strife, and disease ravages the weak and vulnerable children. Not only have these children lost their parents and their homes, but their whole culture and way of life has been shattered by the years of civil strife that have torn apart their nation. This is why Mother Teresa Children's Foundation has made helping the children of Sudan a top priority in our commitment to helping the poorest of the poor just as Mother Teresa did.

We are establishing dozens of Carepoints for children all over Southern Sudan where refugees from the Darfur region and other war-torn areas of Sudan have come to rebuild their lives. The MTCF Carepoints are multi-purpose centres that serve as homes for the orphans, schools, feeding centres and medical facilities. By building these multi-purpose Carepoints, we are not only providing a solid, stable home for the children, but we are also helping families and communities begin the task of rebuilding their lives. Each Carepoint houses 10 to 12 children in a close family environment and provides schooling and meals for dozens more every day.

Mobile Meals

Lifegiving Water

Mother Teresa Children's Foundation's water wells bring hope to many in parched Africa.

Thanks to the generous response to our appeal for water wells in Sudan, Mother Teresa Children's Foundation recently provided 3 new wells in Southern Sudan. These wells will give thousands of people access to clean, safe water.

Waterborne illnesses claim millions of children's lives every year when children and pregnant women can't find a reliable place to get clean water. Many would have to travel for miles to drink from even a contaminated pool or a filthy stream. These new wells not only mean a cup of cold water for a thirsty child, but a better life for mothers, families, and communities for years to come.

Providing a hot meal and a ray of hope to children in need throughout Africa.

Throughout Africa, Mother Teresa Children's Foundation is making it possible for children to receive a hot, nutritious meal. We support mobile feeding centres that go right where the children are in the greatest need. Many times, the meal we bring to these children is the only food they have to eat all day. When we reach out to them through our mobile feeding centres, we are also able to learn about the children and get them connected with our Carepoints where they can receive clothing, schooling or medical care. Our feeding centres are the first point of contact that can develop into a lasting outreach of help for these suffering children.
